C&S Wholesale Grocers, Inc. and Subsidiaries

1. Purpose

To define the Information Services (IS) policy and processes for the use, security, and retention of email at C&S Wholesale Grocers, Inc. (Company).

2. Management Responsibilities

It is the manager's responsibility to ensure that his/her direct-report employees, interns, contractors, and/or third-party workers are aware of, and agree to abide by, the Company's email policy.

3. Email Policy

3.1. Sending and Receiving Email

The Company provided electronic messaging facilities must always be used when communicating with others on official business. You should not use a personal account for this purpose. Additional policies on the use of electronic messaging and internet use can be found in Internet Use policy and the Company Code of Conduct. All messages sent from an organization account remain the property of the Company.

3.2. Sending and Receiving Confidential Information

Every employee is required to protect confidential and/or proprietary information regarding the Company. When sending messages that include confidential information, employees must take particular care to prevent the accidental transmission of confidential information to unauthorized recipients. Beware of the auto-completion feature of some text and email clients where the system suggests recipients based on the characters typed in so far.

3.3. Sending Encrypted Messages

Employees can send encrypted e-mails to individuals outside of the Company by appending "SENDSECURE" to the body of the email message. For more details or assistance with this procedure please reach out to the Helpdesk.

3.4. Sending to Distribution Lists

Employees should avoid sending unnecessary messages to distribution lists, particularly those with wide circulation. Where required, such messages should be sent via the Company's communications department.

3.5. Monitoring of Email

Any and all telephone conversations or transmissions, electronic mail or transmissions, or internet access or usage by an employee by any electronic device or system, including but not limited to the use of a computer, telephone, wire, radio or electromagnetic, photoelectronic or photo-optical systems may be subject to monitoring at any and all times and by any lawful means. Monitoring will be undertaken by staff specifically authorized for that purpose. No employee may access another employee's email account unless they have obtained permission from IS Security and or the Company's Legal department. IS security shall have a formal process for such requests which include obtaining and documenting the necessary approvals.

3.6. Email Security

To prevent the sending and receiving of malicious email messages, consistent monitoring procedures will be applied to all e-mail messages which may include checking the contents of messages. If you believe you have received a malicious e-mail or suspect your email account has been compromised, please contact the Company Helpdesk for assistance.

3.7. Storing email files outside of your mailbox

Storing e-mail files outside of your mailbox is not allowed. This includes personal folders files (PST files), auto archive files (Archive .PST files), and dragging of messages outside your mailbox.

3.8. Use of Email

In addition to the policy statements in other sections of this document, the following applies specifically to the use of email.

- The use of email must be consistent with the Company's Internet Use policy, Code of Conduct, and Employee Handbook
- Where possible, make use of links to files within email messages rather than attaching a copy of the file, particularly if the email message has a wide distribution
- There is a system-wide size limit to emails which is 25Mb. If you need to send a larger email for legitimate business purposes, then please contact the Helpdesk for assistance
- Auto-forwarding to non-Company e-mail systems is prohibited
- The distribution of unsolicited commercial or advertising material, chain letters, or other junk-mail of any kind, to other organizations is prohibited
- The use of 3rd parties to send e-mail as the Company (e.g., sending messages as cswg.com, etc.) requires approval by the VP of Security and Service Delivery.

3.9. Email Retention

Every employee is required to understand the Company's Records Retention Policy located on the Company Intranet. The email system should not be used as a record retention system. Employees should adhere to the guidance in the Records Retention Policy and identify emails that may be considered Company records or emails that contain attachments that may be considered Company records and move such electronic communications to a location that has been authorized and designed to maintain records in compliance with the Records Retention Policy, such as the Network Attached Storage (NAS) drives or the Company's Google Drive (not personal Google Drive accounts).

The following e-mail retention policies shall be enforced by the Company. E-mail Journaling shall be used for the Company's email retention strategy.

Type	Retention requirements
Active Employees	2 years maximum
Inactive Employees	1 year maximum
Employees on legal hold (Active or Inactive)	See "E-mail Retention Exceptions"

3.10. Email Retention Exceptions

C&S will retain email for no longer than a two-year period except as follows:

- Email under legal hold will be retained until the hold is lifted, at which point that email will follow the general two-year retention rule
- Email of former employees will be held for one year unless on legal hold
- Users will be provided a 45-day window prior to implementation of the two-year rule in order to move any critical attachments/documents older than two years and saved within the current email system to a network drive (The IT team shall offer training on storage availability)
- After the 45-day period, email older than two years and not otherwise required to be retained per this policy will be deleted and be unrecoverable
- Certain individuals/groups as requested by the applicable EVP and as approved by Legal will be provided a means to retain certain email longer than two years due to particular legal requirements – the retention period for such email will be customized per individual/group and minimized to the maximum extent possible. The following groups will maintain email for a five (5) year period:
 - Legal
 - HR
 - Procurement

For a full list of individuals who are exempt from the E-mail Retention requirements, please refer to "CSISSEC005A - E-mail Retention Exceptions" document.
